HOW WE OPERATE

AutoPersonnel utilizes a network of independent military recruiters from military bases around the country to assist in placing our clients and service veterans transitioning into the civilian workforce. We visit job fairs, colleges, and trade schools around the nation in search of the very best candidates for our client dealers. We utilize progressive interviewing techniques and testing to insure that candidates have the Cognitive Ability, Motivation, and Personality for optimum performance in our clients' open positions. Research has shown that selected individuals that match job description can increase our candidates' job satisfaction, retention, and improve customer service that is crucial to a dealership.

AutoPersonnel is confident that our selection and job matching process will provide you with the optimum opportunity for a long lasting career with our client dealerships.

HOW CAN WE HELP?

Registering with AutoPersonnelSM is similar to applying for a job at hundreds of new car, truck, motorcycle and equipment dealerships. However, many of these career opportunities have not been advertised. Our system matches the applicant's desire, attitude, experience, and ability with complimenting job leads to increased job satisfaction and job stability. The results are increased production, compensation and advancement opportunities. The businesses are benefited by a happier, more productive workforce with improved profit potential, growth, and customer satisfaction.

APPLICANT PROCEDURE

Interested persons should contact AutoPersonnelSM, where you will be requested to complete a pre-employment questionnaire, a WPT personnel test, and participate in an in-depth interview. Interest, skills, experience, and ability will then be matched with our database of available jobs. Your application will be forwarded to dealers when personal interviews are requested.
